Friday 20th November 2020

Hello everyone,

We are now in our very busiest of weeks in our half term as we prepare for a variety of activities that are being organised to round up the term. As outlined last week we have the School Xmas Production to look forward to, our Sponsored Walk, the Christingle Service, a range of festive activities planned for 'activities week' and not forgetting the packing needed for all holiday makers, or those who are moving on to newer pastures. It is definitely all happening as we approach the festive season.

Sponsor papers have now been distributed and weather pending the route will remain from NASA site to the Earth Station. Of course, the primary children will have shorter routes. Fancy dress is not compulsory although it would be a great to have some participation.

We have had some items brought in for our raffle hampers. Thanks to everyone so far. We would appreciate further contributions and that they are passed on by no later than Wednesday of next week, so that we can put our Hampers together in readiness for our xmas production on Friday 27th November 2020.

School Xmas Production - pick-up times for Georgetown primary children 6.00pm, Two Boats primary children to be at school by 6.15pm. Georgetown seniors pick-up at 6.15pm, Two Boats seniors to be at school by 6.30pm – all seniors to meet in the Geography Room. Please provide your children with a drink and snack.

Tea and Coffee will be available at the end of the show. Monetary donations will be gratefully appreciated at the main door.

This is our final reminder for PTA reps, so if you are interested then please contact the school or Megan Young our Chairperson.

There is one more week of mock exams ahead of us and I would urge students not to become complacent with revision. This past week has generally gone well. Good luck for next week's exams!

Happy Friday everyone! It has been a fantastically busy week in Primary! Earlier in the week, we held our Parents and Carers/Teacher consultations. We had a brilliant turn out and we had some lovely feedback from the parents. All the teachers in Primary really enjoyed discussing how the children have been settling in to their new year groups. Thank you all very much for your time and continued support. Also in Primary this week, it has been all things Christmas! Jenny and Ruth have been busy rehearsing the Nativity and the Christmas songs and the children have done an absolutely wonderful job of learning their lines – we're nearly there guys!! We all look forward to showing off the hard work of Jenny, the children and the staff next Friday, 7pm at school.

It has also been assessment week in Primary. All the classes have been working super hard to complete their end of term assessments. I would say they should have a relaxing weekend, but I also know that Saturday and Sunday are full of activities too! We have been helping Conservation with their MPA (Marine Protected Area) Fun Day on Saturday. All the children in Primary thought about why the MPA is important. Look out for our marvelous artistic creations and amazing writing on Saturday at the Fun Day!

We hope you all have a relaxing, enjoyable weekend –

In support of anti-bullying week, year 5&6 used their French lesson to learn how to give compliments and words of kindness in French. They then were given a random person to write a surprise kind message to. These were then hung up in the classroom for display so students can always see something kind written about them. Well done Year 5&6!
