Hello Everyone,

Just like that we have reached the end of the half term break. I hope that all staff and students have had a rest.

This edition includes a brief summary of events at the end of term 1a.

Our Harvest assembly was well attended again this year. It was a short assembly and all the students did us proud with their singing and poetry recitals. Our Harvest table looked really lovely with the donations of fruit, vegetables and fresh bread. As always we are extremely grateful for the community support. Thank you to Lay Minister Alan for coming in to lead us in prayers and offer thanks for the Harvest. Thank you to the parents who went out of their way to provide us with some tasty treats to share. Thank you to the staff for their part in helping to organise and clear away afterwards.

Sports Day 2023

Unfortunately for compassionate reasons I missed this day, but from what I have been told it was a great day. Again much hard work and effort go into organising events like these and again it is testament to the community support we are shown that they are successful. Thank you to all those who helped and supported us in any way it really is appreciated.

To our PE team – Mr Duncan and Miss Young a big Thank you!

To the students – You should all be proud of yourselves, your determination, resilience and competitive spirit always amazes me. I have worked in many schools during my career and nowhere else comes close to the efforts and commitment shown by the students of TBS. Well done to you all!

Congratulations to CRONKS the winners of Sports Day 2023! A fitting tribute to Josh! I have no doubt he was looking down and willing you all on.

House Points:

Week 7 winners of the house cup: Cronks with 148 points.

Star of the week: Primary – Sydney Arms-Lawrence (on leave) and Secondary – Kaelyn Hudson.

HagBane's Doom – this coming Thursday 2nd November

HAGBANE'S DOOM

Thursday 2nd November

Show Starts at 6:30pm, please can we ask that you are seated by 6pm for Tea and nibbles.

By the time you read this newsletter we will be back starting Term 1b. A reminder to parents, please could you let us know if you are going away on leave in the coming months. This enables us to plan ahead especially with things like Christmas activities.

That's it for now!

On Tuesday 17th October, Students from the GCSE Geography group participated in Coastal field work along Deadman's beach in Georgetown. Students used a range of equipment to collect data about coastal processes along the coastline, measuring wave frequency, measuring longshore drift, measuring the beach profile and conducting a sediment analysis. The trip was supported by Tobias Capel from Conservation who led part of the trip, showing students a different type of fieldwork that is conducted along the coast, a plastic survey. Students then had a go at undertaking a survey along a transect of the beach. Miss Wilson would like to say a big thank you to Tobias and Mrs. Giles who supported the trip to ensure the students had an educational experience.
